Historical Sketch.

For the professional training of teachers, the State of Missouri is divided into three districts, and a State Normal School is located in each district These schools were established by donations made to the State by the several communities in which they are located, and the State Legislature at each regular session makes appropriations for their support.

The value of professional training for teachers of the public schools was recognized as early as 1845, when the President of the University earnestly recommended the establishment of a normal department in that institution, but the law establishing State Normal Schools was not enacted until twenty-five years later. The act was approved March 19th, 1870, and the schools for the first and second districts were established early in the following year; that of the third district was not established until 1874.

The State Normal and Training School for the second district was located at Warrensburg; the county seat of Johnson county, April 27th, 1871. To secure the location, the county voted $128,000 in bonds, the city $45,000, and private citizens donated a campus of sixteen acres within the city limits. The county bonds were sold for $100,000 in cash, which with the $45,000 of city bonds, and the campus above mentioned, was transferred to the State Board of Regents. These gentlemen, as agents of the State, undertook the erection of the buildings for the accommodation of the school. On the 28th of April, 1871, a commodious public school building was leased from the city for a year, and George P. Beard, A. M., was chosen President. He at once entered upon the duties of the position, and the school was opened May 10th with thirty students in attendance.

Immediate steps were taken to erect suitable buildings on the Normal grounds. The cornerstone of the main building was laid with appropriate ceremonies, August 16, 1871, and in June, 1872, the first story was completed and ready for occupancy. The building fund being exhausted, work was suspended, and the school at once removed to the new building, notwithstanding its unfinished condition. The building as at first projected was not completed until the summer of 1881, ten years after the organization of the school.

At the opening of the scholastic year 1881-1882, the Training Department was organized and has since been uniformly maintained, its efficiency and value increasing from year to year.

The rapid growth of the school during the three years following the completion of the main building created a strong demand for more extensive accommodations. Accordingly, during the years 1885 and 1886, a wing 66 by 116 feet was erected south of the center of the main building, and connected to it by a short corridor; and during the year just closed, a Science building 92 by 122 feet was added on the west of the main building and similarly connected with it.

General Information.

OBJECT OF THE SCHOOL.

This institution was established by the state for the training of teachers and is required by law to confine itself strictly to that work. Having but the one purpose in view, it offers superior advantages to young ladies and gentlemen seeking to qualify themselves for the profession of teaching.

COURSE OF STUDY.

In arranging the course of study, our aim has been to meet the present demands of the public schools rather than to conform to ideals of what the future Normal School Course should be. Consequently the course comprehends both academic and professional instruction.

Instruction in the various branches of knowledge embraced in a good public school course, is combined with a careful investigation of the principles and methods of good teaching. School organization, class management, methods of recitation and such other topics in school economy as are especially important to teachers, receive careful attention.

PROGRAM.

The daily program gives special prominence to common school subjects. Reviews in these subjects are organized every term independent of the regular classes of the elementary course. This arrangement is made for the convenience of such teachers as desire rapid reviews in connection with their professional studies. It also enables graduates of the high schools to review these subjects in less time than that allotted to the regular classes.

TRAINING DEPARTMENT.

The object of this department is to afford the means of testing the teaching power of candidates for graduation, and, at the same time, of laying the foundation for systematic and intelligent practice. It affords the young teacher the help most needed in his early efforts, and generally gives him that degree of skill and self-possession which is essential to success in managing an independent school.

The members of classes A, B and C are required to take observation and practice in the Training Department as shown in the course of study, and daily program.

In the work of this Department the student teacher is required to prepare and submit for criticism a complete plan for each lesson, clearly indicating every step in the work of instruction. These plans are carefully criticised and returned in time for the embodiment of all suggested improvements in the instruction given to the classes. Once a week or oftener, the practice teachers meet for general discussion of the work in hand, the aim being to bring out in practice what has already been theoretically treated in the regular professional studies of the Normal Course.

ADMISSION.

The best time to enter is at the beginning or middle of the year, as at these times there is a complete reorganization of classes.

Students entering at other times should come as near the beginning or middle of a term as possible.

Tuition is required in advance, $5.00 for each term, and no deduction is allowed for lost time when less than four weeks.

Applicants for admission to the Normal Department must be sixteen years of age.

Those seeking admission for the first time must present satisfactory evidence of good moral character. A letter from the County Commissioner, or from some person of well known integrity will be sufficient.

Those who come from other institutions of learning must submit satisfactory evidence of having been honorably discharged.

Applicants are admitted on Diploma from College or High School, on Teacher's Certificate and by examination.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

All applicants except those admitted on Diploma or Teacher's Certificate, must pass satisfactory examination on the following subjects:

1. Spelling, so far as to test the ability to spell and write correctly the words in common use.

2. Reading, so far as to test the applicant's ability to express clearly and without hesitation the thought contained in prose selections of moderate difficulty.

3. English Grammar, including the parts of speech with their uses and relations in connected discourse, and the structure of sentences.

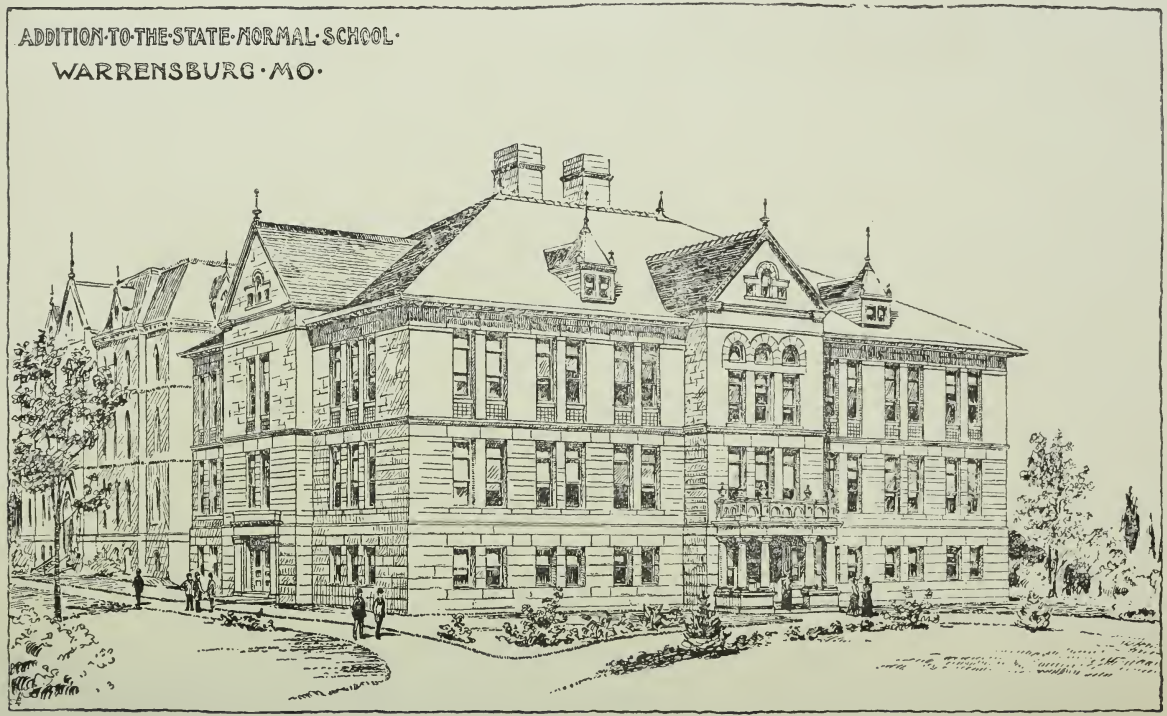
4. Arithmetic, including the principles and operations of simple and compound numbers, and of common and decimal fractions.

5. Geography, including the position, boundaries and coast lines of grand divisions; location of the great plateaus and lowlands; position and direction of mountain ranges; the source, course and discharge of principal rivers; boundaries, capitals, and chief cities of political divisions.

Attention is directed to the following extract from section 8131, of the Revised Statutes of 1889:

"Every applicant for admission shall undergo an examination in such manner as may be prescribed by the Board (of Regents), and they shall require the applicant to sign and file with the Secretary of the Board a DECLARATION OF INTENTION TO FOLLOW THE BUSINESS OF TEACHING in the Public Schools of this State."

The above declaration is required in order that the energies of the school may be directed in the one channel of training teachers, and in no other. Applicants from other states are admitted on the same terms as those from Missouri.



SCIENCE BUILDING.

HIGH SCHOOLS AND ACADEMIES.

Graduates of High Schools and Academies will be admitted to classification on presenting their diplomas, but before final credit is given they must establish their claims by satisfactory work.

Students who enter by diploma are expected to submit, at the time, full information in regard to the extent and character of the course for which they claim credit. Schools differ so broadly in Course, Method and thoroughness of training, that we are forced to consider each case on its merits.

The Professional Course for graduates of High Schools, Academies, and Colleges, has been arranged for the convenience of such students as have completed the requisite academic study in other institutions and are fully prepared to enter at once upon Professional work.

For terms of admission to this course see remarks under Professional Course.

SPECIAL EXAMINATION, ETC.

Students desiring to take advanced standing in any ACADEMIC SUBJECT by special examination will be pemitted to do so, but they must either pass examination at the time of entering school, or at the first examination held in that subject after their enrollment.

Repeated examinations in the same subject are not permitted. Students who fail to pass are required to take the subject in class.

No final examination except in course will be given during the fourth term.

Special examinations are not permitted in PROFESSIONAL SUBJECTS. These subjects must be taken in class and given full time. This requirement is necessary in order to insure proper attention to professional study.

GRADES.

Grades made at County Institutes and Commissioner's Examinations are not accepted for advanced standing.

Students who present certificates of standing from the State University, School of Mines, or State Normal Schools, will be credited with such completed subjects as are rated at 80 per cent, or above. Grades of more than three years standing will not be accepted without examination test.

Students will not be permitted to divide time by alternating subjects. Every subject taken in class must have its full number of hours.

Graduates of Colleges and approved High Schools will be admitted to the Professional Course on Diploma and recommendation, but COMMON SCHOOL SUBJECTS must either be reviewed in class or passed by examination. The subjects here referred to are: Spelling, Reading, Writing, Geography, English Grammar, Arithmetic, U. S. History, Civil Government, Physiology and Hygiene with reference to the effect of alcohol, narcotics, etc., on the human system.

CLASSIFICATION AND PROMOTION.

Classes in the Elementary Course are re-organized at the end of each term in order that all may be provided with suitable work, but all students are expected to pursue the Course regularly from the point at which their examination entitles them to enter.

All common school branches must be disposed of at the outset either by examination or by entering the proper classes.

Promotions after classification will be determined by the student's record in class. Those who fail to do satisfactory work will be transferred to a lower section or required to review from the beginning.

The class work in American History must be completed before taking Civics.

A good practical knowledge of Composition is required for admission to Rhetoric.

Descriptive Geography must precede Physical Geography.

The first half of Arithmetic must be completed before beginning Algebra.

Three-fourths of Algebra must be completed before entering Geometry.

Psychology must precede Methods.

The study of Methods and School Management must precede work in the Practice Department.

GRADUATION.

The course of study is subdivided into "Elementary" and "Advanced." Students who complete the elementary section satisfactorily are granted a certificate of Graduation, setting forth the studies completed and the grade attained in each.

The Normal Diploma, with the degree of Bachelor of Scientific Didactics, is conferred upon those who complete the full course of four years.

Candidates for graduation from the elementary course are required to attend at least five months; those wishing to graduate from the full course, one year. They must be seventeen years old and of good moral character. They must also possess satisfactory standings in deportment and scholarship.

The standard of graduation is 90 per cent., and the minimum grade allowed is 75 per cent.; an average grade of 85 per cent., is required on the course completed. A grade of 90 per cent. is required in deportment.

CLASS HONORS.

Class Honors are based on the average grade including deportment, as follows:

An average of 96 to 100, First Honors; 90 to 95, Second Honors.

EXPENSES.

BOARD AND ROOMS.

The school has no dormitories. Our students board at private houses. There is no scarcity of accommodations near the Normal Building at reasonable terms.

Students who desire to board in clubs can reduce the expenses to $1.75 or $2.00 per week by practicing economy.

A limited number of ladies can obtain furnished rooms for self-boarding at fifty cents per week for each occupant, or $1.00 per week when a student rooms alone. Students availing themselves of this arrangement are expected to provide everything except furniture, mattress, heating stove and cooking stove.

Unfurnished rooms can be rented at $1.50 to $2.50 per month. Cottages of four rooms rent at $6.00 to $8.00 per month, the price depending on the location.

The entire expenses of a student for a term of ten weeks are usually about $40. Those who board themselves, or in clubs can bring their expenses within $25.00 a term.

TUITION.

ADVANTAGES.

Warrensburg is located in one of the healthiest sections of the State, and the moral influences of the place are fully equal to those of any town of its size in the west.

The school possesses an excellent working outfit, among which may be named the following:

LIBRARIES.

Students have the use of good Libraries of Reference and General Literature free.

A text-book Library is also maintained from which students may obtain text-books for use free of charge when desired.

Large additions have been made to the general library during the past year.

CABINETS.

The Geological and Botanical Cabinets are well arranged, and rapidly increasing in number and range of specimens. These afford great assistance to the student in getting a clear knowledge of the subjects to which they relate.

LIBRARY AND STUDY ROOM.

The Science building erected during the past year affords a commodious Library room, with a large room for reading and study in immediate connection therewith. This room is well supplied with newspapers, magazines and works of reference, free to all students during the school day and on Saturdays from 8:00 to 10:00 A. M.

LABORATORIES.

The Science building also contains the Zoological, Geological, Chemical and Physical laboratories with their lecture rooms, and the general offices of the school.
